Traditions Convo at 9:30 Features McCain, Music

The Traditions day convocation at 9:30 this morning will highlight MSU's annual Traditions day, which is observed at the beginning of spring quarter. Gene Kallgren, traditions board president, said yesterday.

One of the main features of the convocation will be a speech by Pres. James A. McCain, who will give the students the latest news of the $5 million bond issue, as well as the history leading up to the controversy on it. He will show how the freeing of four of the five million in dispute would help the university as well as the state in general. The freeing of the funds is holding up progress toward the construction of the humanities-social science and music buildings.

The finals in the men's and women's song contest will also be featured on the program and awards will be presented to the winners. The finalists competing today are Kappa Kappa Gamma and Tri Delta women's living groups; and Sigma Nu, Theta Chi, and Sigma Phi Epsilon men's groups.

Songs that will be presented by the groups are: Tri Delta—"All the Things You Are" and "Donkey Serenade;" Kappa Kappa Gamma—"I'll Always Be True to You Darling in My Fashion;" Sigma Nu—"Montana, My Montana" and "Heaven, Heaven;" Sigma Phi Epsilon—"Just the Way You Look Tonight" and "Dry Bones;" Theta Chi—"I Dream of You" and "Meadowlands."

Kallgren, who is in charge of the convocation, said that a special traditions pep band and the cheerleaders would be on hand to keep things lively.

Barber' Tryouts Today in Union

"The Barber of Seville," comic opera by Gioachino Rossini, is this year's all-school music and dramatics department production. Tryouts will be from 4 to 6 p.m. today, and from 11 until noon tomorrow in the Student Union theater.

All students are welcome to try out for parts in the show, according to LeRoy W. Hinze and John W. Lester, directors. Students who want to try out should come prepared with music, preferably from the show, they said.

"The Barber of Seville" will be presented in the Student Union theater for students and townspeople, May 16 and 17. Interscholastic meet guests will have a special presentation on May 18.

J-Schoolers to Publish Lewistown Daily News

Ten journalism students will spend two days of intensive on-the-job newspaper experience when they "take over" the Lewistown Daily News April 6 and 7.

All phases of the newspaper's operation—reporting, editing, photography, and advertising—will be handled by the students.

Third Year

Ken Byerly, publisher of the Daily News, invited James L. C. Ford, dean of the journalism school, to send this group of students to edit his paper after similar groups staffed it for two-day periods in 1948 and 1949.

Gordon Nelson, one of the 1948 group, became editor of the Daily News after graduation from the University. Jean Dineen, a 1947 graduate of the journalism school, is now editor.

Seniors in this year's group and the positions they will hold on the Lewistown paper are George Remington, Anaconda, editor; Dwain Hanson, Great Falls, reporter; Al Pepper, Rochester, N. Y., city editor; Margery Hunter, Libby, reporter; Ward Fanning Jr., Butte, advertising staff; Gene Gilmore, Miles City, reporter; Ward Sims, Clearwater, Wash., wire editor; and Joe Stell, Hamilton, photographer.

Juniors in the group are Donna Ring, Missoula, reporter, and Shirley McKown, Seattle, Wash., advertising staff.

Parker B. Lusk, journalism instructor, will accompany the group as adviser.

MSU Law School Grads Are Admitted to Bar

The number of lawyers in Montana was increased by 14 yesterday morning when special ceremonies were conducted in the State Supreme court to admit the winter quarter graduating class of MSU's law school.

The graduates were not required to take the bar examination; they are automatically accepted upon graduation.

The Graduates

Those who flocked to Helena to become fully qualified barristers were John Forsythe, Glasgow; John Grinde, Polson; Lyman Hall, Bruce Johnson, Allison Libra, and Cornelius Vogt, Missoula; Robert Halladay, Brainerd; Harold Holt, Hamilton; Charles Muir, Williston; Lyle Nelson, Polson; Manuel Hoth, Billings; George Sarsfield, Butte; Cornelius Schile, Portland; and John Wuerthner, Great Falls.

Two of the lawyers, Grinde and Hall, are going to continue their studies. They will attend New York university for post-graduate work in taxation and labor law.

Careers Planned

Some of them have definite jobs lined up. Libra will be an attorney for the Equitable Life Insurance company in Great Falls. Muir plans on starting a private practice in Williston, and Nelson will be associated with Stanley M. Doyle, an attorney in Polson.

Sarsfield plans on practicing with Attorney Tom Davis, Butte, and Wuerthner will be associated with his father, Julius, in Great Falls.

Grand Opera Arrives Tuesday

A noted touring group will present a double operatic bill Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the Student Union auditorium. Only students will be admitted to the afternoon performance of the two operas, "Cavalleria Rusticana," by Mascagni, and "I Pagliacci," by Leoncavallo. Activity cards must be presented at the door.

Charles L. Wagner's touring opera company is composed of all-star casts singing the leading roles. An orchestra of thirty and a large chorus will support the leading artists. Brand-new scenery and colorful, authentic costumes will appear on the stage.

Singing the leading role in "Cavalleria Rusticana" will be Shirley Bardin, of Newark, New Jersey, in the part of Santuzza, a young peasant. Miss Bardin is a new find of Wagner's who has displayed exceptional talent as a dramatic soprano. Supporting her are Jon Crain, Margaret Roggero, Frank Cappelli, and Grace Hoffman.

Lagares as Canio

In "I Pagliacci" which follows "Cavalleria Rusticana," leading roles have been assigned to Rafael Lagares as Canio, chief of a village comedy troupe; Bruna Falcon as his wife, Nedda; Richard Torigi, as Tonio; Thomas Perkins, as Sylvio; and Byron Steele, as Beppo.

Paul Breisach, a conductor of the Metropolitan and San Francisco operas, will direct the orchestra, while Desire Defrere will stage the work.

Ten Years Old

Founded ten years ago, Mr. Wagner's company has grown from a group of twenty singers travelling in one bus with the scenery strapped on the roof to an organization of major proportions requiring two large busses and a 10-ton trailer truck.

Time magazine termed the troupe as an "Opera-a-la-cart." Mr. Wagner's company derived its unique name from the unusual way in which it travels.

Students are urged to be seated by 2 o'clock because the operas will begin promptly due to the length of time needed for their performance.

MSU Grad Elected Company President

Robert N. Fuller '23 of Springfield, Mass., has been elected president of Merriam company, publishers of Webster's dictionary.

Fuller moved to New York after graduation in 1925 to become advertising manager for the magazine, Theater Arts. After three years with Theater Arts he went to Scribner's where he stayed nine years.

In 1937, Fuller joined Merriam company as advertising manager. He was elected to the board of directors in 1944 and in 1947 was chosen executive vice-president of that company.

Mr. Fuller is a native of Helena.

WESLEY FOUNDATION MEETS

The Wesley foundation will meet in the Methodist church at 5 p.m. Sunday, Publicity Chairman Chuck Davis, Glendive, said.

Cannon Seeks Compromise

Helena, March 23—(UP)—Acting Governor Paul Cannon came up Thursday with a new proposal for compromising the current dispute over the $5 million University building fund.

Cannon sent telegrams to the heads of the University units and Chancellor George A. Selke suggesting that a "tentative reallocation proposal be submitted to the Boards of Examiners and Education."

The suggested reallocation would give MSU $1,675,000.

Pres. James A. McCain said last night that his reply to Cannon's proposal voiced "appreciation for his sincere efforts to resolve the conflict." His telegram suggested that any such proposals be submitted to the State Board of Education which meets in Helena April 10.

Sorority Rushing Starts Sunday

In the shortest rush period since Montana sororities adopted a closed rush policy three years ago, unaffiliated women will begin spring rushing Sunday.

The rush season will commence at 2 p.m. Sunday, when interested girls will meet in the Eloise Knowles room in the Student Union and then go on an open house tour of the seven MSU sororities.

Coffee hours will be on Monday afternoon at all of the houses. Rushes will receive their bids in the residence hall mail boxes. Off-campus women can pick up their bids in the North hall business office.

Registration of women who wish to participate in rush must be done between 11:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. on Monday and Tuesday in the Eloise Knowles room, according to Beverly Burgess, Panhellenic president. Women do not need to be registered to attend the open house on Sunday, she stressed.

Mountaineer Lacks Tallow Of Good Expository Writing

By JOHN SUCHY

The winter quarter issue of the Mountaineer, MSU literary magazine, which appeared on the campus Wednesday, again late, presents to its readers a cross section of generally well-done college student fiction and poetry with excellently-executed illustrations by members of its art staff.

Missing from this quarter's magazine, as it was last quarter, is a single piece of "meat," of expository writing. If only in the interests of balance, a college literary publication should contain something besides fiction.

Stories and Poetry

In the magazine are five short stories and three pieces of poetry by Robert Taylor and Cyrus Noe. "Auld Lang Syne," by David Lindell, the first story in the magazine, juxtaposes the characters of Michael Rollins, a factory boss; Scranton, a company-controlled newspaper editor, and Benson, an ex-forman and worker, as they react to an industrial crisis. By shifting from viewpoint to viewpoint in his story, the author effectively presents the reactions of his individual characters. The story is illustrated by Bob Delaney.

"Behind the Walls of Osaka Jo," by Joe Gionet, illustrated by Nancy Fields, is a well-done reminder of the many brutal aspects of the early post-war world. With outwardly-peaceful and picturesque occupied Japan as its backdrop, it dramatizes the personal experiences of a group of soldiers on guard at a lonely post who have little to cling to but themselves and a desire to return home.

GOLFERS GATHER

All men wishing to become members of the varsity golf team should attend the meeting in the Eloise Knowles room Monday at 4 p.m., Bill Anderson, captain, announced yesterday.

Of Aching Arms and Ticks . .

Another year and another tick season is scrambling upon us. Again the Health service is prepared to jab the needle into the quivering arms of a long file of potential picnickers, beer-busters, and outdoor men in general.

The shots are free of charge to University students, the serum being donated by the research laboratories at Hamilton and the surgery cheerfully undertaken by the Health service. All students are eligible for the shots, not just the feminine contingent as reported in yesterday's Kaimin.

Yesterday we had a short chat with the Health service people and are now better acquainted with the whole problem of tick fever. Missoula and the Bitterroot valley have seen large-scale inoculations for quite a few years now. In fact, this area was the first in the nation to undertake wholesale use of the serum, it being a particularly happy hunting ground for the little beasts.

The vaccine comes in two styles, that produced from diseased chick embryo and the older variety produced from macerated tick—that means chopped up, we learned. Which type is the better has not yet been determined so an individual has his choice of either.

The number of fever cases has diminished greatly in the past few years although the range of the disease has widened. Cases have been reported in Ohio and other eastern states. The researchers are investigating the possibility that the fever is now being transported across the country by other insects.

All the above is intended as a little background for a broad statement that we think the Health service, with the assistance of the Hamilton laboratories, is performing a valuable service for the students. When the gripes and grumbles about Health service failings are being noised around, it might be a good idea to slow down a minute and consider the many cases in which the students receive real benefits.—D.G.

Just a Title?

Traditions is a fine title for a convocation, calling to mind a venerable institution, an ivy-covered hall hoary with age and mellow with the gracious customs of pleasant college days. Traditions also come in handy for the convocation committee. They can set aside the first Friday of spring quarter as Traditions convo and thus get one more Friday morning out of the way.

But in most instances traditions end right there.

Some impressionable young freshman opens his mouth on "Hello" walk and gets either a slack-jawed stare or an inane giggle in way of a reply. It's enough to destroy his faith in the unquestioned superiority of upperclassmen and sorority women.

Most of the other traditions supposedly entwined in the very fibers of the University get much the same treatment. We pay obeisance to them in the M-book and at Traditions convo and let them go hang for the rest of the year.

About the only traditions that the campus seems interested in are a bigger and better Aber day each year and a rowdier and wilder Foresters—with neither of which do we quarrel. However, it might be a good idea to do a little something about traditions throughout the year instead of dragging into the theater one morning each spring and letting it go at that.—D.G.

BLEGEN RECITAL SET

Dorothy Blegen, Missoula resident, will give a music recital at 8:15 p.m. Sunday in the Student Union auditorium.

Mrs. Blegen will be assisted by Asst. Prof. of Music Eugene Andrie and also by Lorraine Andrie. This is another of the music recitals that are presented on the campus from time to time.

M CLUB TO POSE

Sentinel pictures of basketball and football lettermen will be taken Wednesday, March 29, p.m. in the Student Union lounge. Cleet Smith, manager, said. WN shirts with open collars must be worn.

A basketball group picture will be taken April 4, at 7:30 p.m. in the gym, he said.

tentially brilliant future, who is frustrated by heart disease to the point where his sole pleasure in life is in seeing others suffer. He greets even his oldest friends with little but disgust. One touch of incongruity comes in the hospital nurse, Mrs. Carten, whose character seems somewhat improbable. The story is illustrated by George Gogas.

Amusing Cows

The most amusing piece in the magazine is Robert Taylor's "Variations on Purple Cows," using as a theme the often-quoted verse by Gelett Burgess. The author expands on his subject in the styles of Browning, Keats, Shakespeare, Whitman, and Cummings. His poetry is illustrated by James Dew, instructor of art.

Other more serious poems are "The Valley Is Dark," by Cyrus Noe, and "An Address to the Minor Poets of New Sparta," by Taylor. The cover drawing is by Joyce Clark, art editor.

A page of biographical notes on Mountaineer contributors, a welcome addition to previous issues of the magazine, was missing from this issue.

THE LATER YOU ARE, THE MORE IT COSTS

Deadline for payment of fees for spring quarter is Saturday noon, the business office reported yesterday. Failure to visit the business office before that time with some green stuff will cost each negligent student $1 a day for every school day thereafter.

t's Male Plumage Now, Not Just a Set of Rags

New York.—(UP)—If a woman walks into a clothing store, next she "he" plans to buy a suit, she, more than he, can expect the red carpet to be rolled out. The Wool bureau has surveyed more than 5,000 retail clothing stores and discovered women have a hand in 75 per cent of all apparel purchases.

What's more, they've discovered that men today are more clothes-conscious than ever before.

So when the little woman sits down with a critical eye to see how at gabardine drapes, her eye is likely to fall on a little booklet a salesman will shove before her.

Main Points to Watch

It's called "Male Plumage—How a Man Can Improve It." In it, you'll find these main points to watch for to insure good fitting:

1. His coat must be long enough to cover the seat of his trousers.
2. The coat collar should be set low enough on his neck to show half an inch of shirt collar, the spread sleeves should permit half an inch of shirt cuff.
3. The coat should not break at the middle button and bulge in the rear.
4. His vest must cover the trouser waist band.
5. His trousers should hang straight from the thighs and must leave plenty of seat room.

Back of this educational campaign are some of the country's leading manufacturers. Botany 500 (Hoff; Hart, Schaffner and Marx; Kuppenheimer; Lebow; Value First; and University Town are the brand names behind it.

Times Have Changed

F. Eugene Ackerman, spokesman for the Wool bureau, said they've discovered that the "five-day week, paid vacations, the automobile, and airplane have contributed to turning men's attention to clothes." Three points for the basis of a man's wardrobe. A business suit runs the gamut of fabrics and styles. There is the "dress up" suit, the blue or dark gray worsted which waits for special occasions. A country ensemble has the sporty air.

"If you ever go to the zoo," Ackerman said, "you see the peacock breathtakingly spread that gorgeous fan. You think it's the female, eh? It's the male.

"It's the male lion who has that resplendent mane. We humans are only now beginning to do with our men what nature started long ago."

Registration Tab Set for Saturday

Final count on registration will not be available until Saturday, according to Leo Smith, registrar. Advanced registration usually delays an accurate count until after the quarter has started.

"Many students register in advance, then either neglect to return or notify us," Smith said.

Some veterans pick up their activity cards, and non-veterans neglect to pay their fees, so that the registrar's office has no way of knowing who is officially registered.

Smith urged that "Students should take care of these things this week for sure, so that we can make the report before the Saturday deadline."

Let's See Sherman March Through This

Knoxville, Tenn. — (UP) — Charles Dickey, a University of Tennessee student, filed claim in the county register's office here "to the southern half of all the outer space."

Dickey denounced the claim of a Chicago industrial designer, James T. Mangan, to all the universe outside the earth's stratosphere.

"That is just like a damned Yankee," he said. "I think it is all right for him to claim the northern part but he should leave the southern part for a southerner."

LATE BOOKS EXPECTED TO ARRIVE MONDAY

Spring quarter books which have not arrived at the book store should be in by Monday or Tuesday, March 26 or 27, M. H. McCollum, Student Union book store manager, announced.

The book store has issued 90 per cent of required books and supplies to students for spring quarter.

McCollum said that at the beginning of this week 2,500 students purchased books at the store.

Distaff Group Picks Charter Member List

Charter members of the new local home economics honorary, Eta Epsilon, were chosen at a meeting of the Homarts club Wednesday night.

They are Harriett Ely, Missoula; Donna Burr, Kalispell; Bernice Wiley, Helena; Virginia Bulen, Missoula; Catherine Sweeney and Betty Jean Murray, Belt; Jill Christiansen, Missoula; Pat Rainey, Polson; Mrs. Maxine Jones, Missoula; Mrs. Christine Roberts, Missoula; and Florence Madsen, Darby.

The honorary's purpose is to stimulate interest in all fields of home economics and promote research in connected fields.

Must Be Juniors

Members must have at least junior standing and must be home economics majors with a minimum of 20 credits in that field. They must have a grade index of 1.7 in home economics courses and a C average in all other academic work. Active members in Homarts club for the previous year is also required.

Prospective members will be chosen at Homarts meetings and will be initiated during fall and spring quarters. The honorary will carry on one project each quarter and will send a delegate to home economics conventions. Meetings will be held once a month.

Advisors for the new honorary are Miss Helen Gleason, Miss Anne Platt, and Mrs. LaVerne Olsen.

New Officers Chosen

New officers for Homarts club installed at the meeting were Catherine Sweeney, president; Donna Burr, vice-president; Harriett Ely, secretary; Marilyn Kintner, treasurer; and Jamie Brennan, publicity chairman.

Miss Frances Urban, national representative, gave a talk and showed slides of the American Home Economics association. She told of the association's work in sponsoring foreign home economics students in this country.

Plans were made for the style show April 4 in the Bitterroot room. Home economics students will model clothes from Missoula stores and those they made themselves.

Keep off the grass.

J-Dean to Speak At Hamilton High

James L. C. Ford, dean of the journalism school, will be guest speaker at the annual Quill and Scroll dinner in Hamilton, Wednesday, March 29, P. B. Lusk, journalism instructor, said. Outstanding journalism students of Hamilton High school will be honored.

Dean Ford, who has had more than 20 years' experience in newspaper work and education, has been professor and dean of the journalism school since 1942.

Another pesky filler.

CYF TO MEET

The Christian Youth Fellowship group will meet at 5 p.m. Sunday, in the Congregational church, president Donna Fleshman, Dutton, announced.

Evan Rempel, Dutton, will direct the program, followed by a lunch.

OUR SLIP IS SHOWING

Mrs. Peggy Leigh is general secretary of the Placement bureau, not freshman secretary as reported yesterday. The Kaimin apologizes to Mrs. Leigh for demoting her to the ranks of the green-beanie wearers.

Pedagogues' Pay On the Upgrade in Major Cities

Chicago.—(UP)—Teachers' salaries in major U. S. cities are climbing.

A study by the Chicago Civic Federation showed that four cities, Cleveland, Boston, Detroit, and Boston, boosted teachers' pay in 1949 and nine cities raised salaries in 1948.

Salaries in the big cities showed wide range.

In Pittsburgh and Buffalo beginning teachers received $2,200 annually, while some experienced New York teachers received as much as $5,325.

Minimum salaries paid elementary teachers holding a B.A. degree ranged from the low of $2,200 in Pittsburgh and Buffalo to a high of $3,046 in Detroit.

The median minimum salary in the 13 cities for elementary teachers with B.A. degrees was $2,500, while for those with a master's it was $2,784.

Cities paying over these medians were Detroit, Los Angeles, Cleveland, Baltimore, San Francisco, and Milwaukee.

Movie Morals Deplorable Maryland Censor Claims

Baltimore.—(UP)—Heaven help the movie industry if the courts wipe out censorship, says Sydney R. Traub, chairman of the Maryland Board of Motion Picture Censors.

Even with the existence of seven state censor boards and 180 city boards, according to Traub, the moral tone of Hollywood productions since World War II has hit an "all-time low."

Without official censorship, he said, it wouldn't be long before movie standards got out of hand and civic and religious boycotts drove the industry into the ground.

Legal action challenging the entire system of official movie censorship in this country has been brought in federal court in Atlanta. The suit has Hollywood's support and is aimed at getting the U. S. supreme court to reverse its 1915 decision sustaining the legality of movie censorship.

Says Code Is Signed

"Hollywood and others," Traub said, "seem to be determined to end official motion picture censorship in this country."

He said that despite a statement by Eric Johnston, head of the Motion Picture Association of America, there is no reason why the movies should "ride along with the post-war drift down laxity lane." The trend of movies today definitely is toward the unwholesome, he contended.

Many producers, Traub claims, now even disregard the "so-called self-regulation plan known as the production code," established by Will Hays in the early '30s.

"Box office receipts have reportedly shown a downward trend for some time, and competition is intense within the industry, with the possible added bugaboo of television," Traub said.

Goldwyn Disputed

"Already Samuel Goldwyn and others are attempting to cast aside the premise that it has outlived its usefulness, and that a code should be adopted which will enable the industry to get away from producing what Mr. Goldwyn has termed 'Polyana and fairy-tale pictures.'"

"The fact is that they are not waiting for a new code."

Traub cited a National Legion of Decency statement that 42 per cent of foreign-made films and about 20 per cent of domestic pictures were "considered to contain substantially morally objectionable elements." The legion said these

Officers Elected To Head Druids

Harry Covey, Missoula, was elected president of the Druids, honorary forestry organization, during the Wednesday evening meeting, Joe Siemanski, Beaver, Pa., outgoing president, said yesterday.

Other officers elected were Dale Robinson, vice-president; Ralph Hanson, secretary; Dick Strong, treasurer, all of Missoula; and John McDougal, Philipsburg, historian.

Definite plans were made for the Druid dinner dance that will take place at the Pines this evening.

The Druids is an honorary forestry organization designed to promote the forestry school and its functions. Members are elected during the fall and spring quarters. To be eligible, the forestry student must be of junior standing and have at least a 2.0 grade index. He must also be a paid-up member of the Forestry club.

Prof. Lester Airs Views on Operas

A lecture on the operas, "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pagliacci," will be given in Main Hall auditorium at 7:30 p.m. today. John Lester, professor of music, will lecture on the two operas.

The talk is being presented to better acquaint opera goers with these two Italian operas. The operas will be staged on the campus Tuesday, March 28, in Italian.

The local music group of Missoula had made an effort to have the operas presented in English. The lecture is open to the public. Mr. Lester will play some records of the two operas at his lecture.

There are only 31 days in March.

The Maryland board, Traub said, in the last 12 month rejected five pictures in their entirety and ordered the elimination of certain scenes and dialogue in 219 additional pictures.

"Not a single decision of the board was appealed to the Baltimore city court, which the law permits the party submitting the picture to do," Traub said.

Major Roy Carlson, U. of Iowa, Training Executive, U.S. Air Force!

Born in Red Oak, Iowa, Roy graduated from Thomas Jefferson High School at Council Bluffs. He was ready to enter the University when war changed his mind.

He went to work at Consolidated Vultee in San Diego, building PBV's and B-24's. But it wasn't long until he had put in his application for Aviation Cadet training.

Cadet Carlson won his wings in April, 1943, was assigned to P-47 "Thunderbolts" with the 368th Fighter Group in England, to break ground for the Normandy invasion.

Roy completed 125 combat missions, leading many of them, supporting the invasion and the advances on into Germany. Won Air Medal, D. F. C., many other decorations. Promoted to Captain, then to Major.

Back home, he married the lovely Army nurse from Lowell, Massachusetts, whom he had met at Cannes, France. After the honeymoon, he returned to finish his studies at the University of Iowa.

Major Carlson is now Chief of Operations, 2471st Air Force Reserve Training Center, at O'Hare International Airport, near Chicago. Has two husky sons, a fine job, a great career still ahead of him!

Weather Main Problem As 43 Prepare for 23-Game Schedule

If the weatherman keeps smiling, Missoula, 43 Grizzly baseball hopefuls will be out on the field next week preparing for a tough game schedule which starts April 12.

Coach Ed Chinske said the field is dry but has to be worked on a bit before it will be in proper condition for practice. The squad has been working out in the gym for more than a week.

Thirteen lettermen are among the 43 who have signed up for the season. Chinske has not had a chance to watch the new prospects perform, but he said hitting ability will have plenty to do with determining who survives the cut.

"On paper it is tough to pick a squad," he said. "Defensively we are all right, but the big question is: Can the newcomers outlast the old-timers?"

The weather will have plenty to say about who will start the season April 12 against the Great Falls Electric at Lewiston, Ida., the coach noted. Inclement weather will prevent him from seeing the newcomers in action.

Returning lettermen include captains Bill Mitchell, catcher, and Bob Nichol, third base; Howie Armstrong, outfield; Frank Cocco, infield; Bob Cope, pitcher and first base; Bill Douchette, shortstop; John Holding, shortstop; Ted Igenstuhler, second base and last year's captain; Jon Jourdonnais, catcher; Jim Lucas, pitcher; Jack Loughlin, pitcher; Ted Tabarac, pitcher and outfield; and Emmet Walsh, outfield. A heavy academic schedule will keep Bob Igenstuhler from his mound duties this season.

This year's schedule calls for six games more than the Grizzlies played last year when they won 12, and tied one. The tie is a 17-inning marathon against Nezaga which lasted until well past midnight before being called off with the score at 3-3.

The 1950 schedule:

- April—
12—Selectrics at Lewiston, Ida.
13—Selectrics at Lewiston, Ida.

Greatest MSU Basketball Team Wins 27 of 31 Games

By CYRUS NOE

What may well be termed the most successful basketball season Montana State University has ever had is over.

Thirty-one games—27 of them wins and four losses—are now history. And the numbers on the ledgers that make that history show that 12 of 20 university records, for both individual and team performances, are held by this team or its members.

Although ending on a disappointing note (a 48-47 loss to Portland university in the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball tourney in Kansas City), the records amassed in the 1949-1950 season should stand as a goal for future Grizzly teams.

Seven of Ten

And it would not be right to say much about this season, or go far into a story about it, without mentioning Bob Cope. The tall Missoulian holds seven of ten individual records and is tied with Jim Graham for an eighth.

This year was the greatest of four great years for Cope. He made five of his records this year. And, although Cope himself would not like it said, he was the big punch in the Silvertip attack this year more than ever. This is hardly opinion; it is fact.

This is not for a moment saying he did not have help. Johnny Eahart, Dick Carstensen, Graham, Ray Bauer, Danny Marinkovich, Jack Sparks, Bob Hasquet, Joe Brennan, to name a few, did their share and more when the last bet was in.

Eight Running

The team started off with an eight-game winning streak, justifying the high pre-season hopes held for it.

The first pair of games were with North Dakota university in Billings. The Grizzlies registered a pair of easy wins: 83-53 and 73-61. Cope booked the season's big point showing in the second game: 39 points.

Next on the Grizzly list was a tournament at Pocatello. Taking the first game from College of Idaho 83-34, the locals went on to win the session with a 84-76 besting of Eastern Washington.

A pair with Whitman here saw the 'Tips win 81-30 and 79-56. Then they filled out their eight-game span with a pair here from Whitworth 78-63 and 91-61.

First Loss

It was in the next game, played at Cheney, Wash., that the locals lost their first. It was to Eastern Washington, a team they had beaten. The score was EWCE 67, MSU 59.

On the rebound, the Grizzlies opened the flood gates on a hapless Rocky Mountain (Billings) quint here after the holidays. The Bears were buried 95-52 the first night and 84-31 the second.

Idaho State college here proved rather tough as they repeatedly showed a drive that kept them within dangerous distance of the smoother Grizzlies. But the locals won 79-70 and 81-74. Gonzaga, a team pre-rated as one of the Grizzlies' toughest competitors, looked poor the first night here as they lost 89-73. But the succeeding night, they drove the Silvertips into an overtime to win 67-65.

Split With MSC

The traditional series with Montana State college began the next week end at Bozeman. The Montana club registered a scant 59-58 triumph the first game, but lost their second of the season as they ended on the worse end of a 51-46 count.

Due to a air-search for a missing C-47 in Canada, a duo of games with the Great Falls Air Base had to be cancelled. In its stead, the Montana team was matched with a local AAU outfit, Thompson's Goodies. The score was MSU 94, Goodies 52.

Portland, the team that ruined the Grizzlies' windup, fell a double victim to MSU in the next games. The Pilots lost the first 93-55, the second 63-46.

Idaho State at home was not as difficult as they had been here: 97-50 and 78-53 were the scores. Although Gonzaga was beaten easily by MSU in Wallace, Ida., 75-68, they turned around the next night in Spokane and gave the Grizzlies their worst spanking of the season by a score of 65-42.

In the final home games of the season, the rivalry with the state college was wrapped up for another year. The Aggies were turned back 71-51 and 72-56.

To Kansas City

The winner of the Montana small college conference and the Grizzlies met in Anaconda earlier this

Track Scene Darkened By Lack of Manpower

Although it seems that Dick Doyle, MSU discus topper, is a bright spot on the Grizzly track scene, Coach Harry Adams said yesterday that the team as a whole is short of men in 12 of the 15 varsity events.

Issues Call

Adams asks that all men who are interested in competing in varsity or freshman track events report to him as soon as possible.

Coach Adams has seven lettermen back for this season. Five of these men lettered last season. They are Bill Brandt, Bill McChesney, Howard Heintz, Dick Doyle, and Bob Christensen. Lettermen back from two seasons ago are Jim Gray and Pat McLatchy.

Indoor Record

Dick Doyle tossed the discus 158 feet for an indoor record in an unofficial meet held at Washington State college last week. Doyle has thrown the platter over 160 feet outdoors.

Last year he threw for distances of 160.8, 158.5, 156.3, and 153.3½ feet.

A meet for those freshmen interested in earning their numerals will take place April 22, Adams said.

The Grizzlies will meet the Washington State college Cougars here April 15 in a dual meet.

The Boys

Track men and the events they are entering are: Heintz, middle distance; Christensen, javelin; Joe Luckman, Joe Brennan, Pat McLatchy, and Bayers in the sprints; Heintz and Gray, quarter mile; Dean Badgley and Harmeson in the hurdles; Heintz, G. M. Fleming, and Widenhofer in the mile; Brandt and McChesney in the two-mile run; Doyle and Ralph Ripke in the discus; Don Delaney month to see who would represent this district in the NAIB tournament. The locals won easily, 80-53. The tri-city All Stars, representing the Butte, Anaconda and Twin Bridges league, almost outbucketed the Grizzlies in a wild 91-83 mincing city clash. Winding up the non-tournament play for the year, the Silvertips went past a Helena All-Star club in that city the next night 101-62.

The loss to Portland was the last game of the season.

The curtain has been pulled shut on the greatest of all seasons for the University, as far as basketball is concerned. But the applause is still echoing and the season is not gone—just take a look at the record book.

Women P.E. Majors Needed as Teachers

"There is a great need for women P. E. majors in the teaching field," Marjorie Smallwood, secretary of the Teachers' Placement bureau said today.

Students listed with her office are urged to contact Mrs. Smallwood at once.

"There are a number of teaching positions offered in Montana, Idaho, and California at the present time," she said.

There will be some openings in science and commercial teaching, according to Mrs. Smallwood, the big need will be apparent in the physical education area.
